

Too Early to Tell About Cambodia

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior U.S. military officers say it is too early to tell whether the allied sweep through the Cambodian sanctuaries will be a long-range success.

The officers agreed with President Nixon's assertion Wednesday that the Cambodian sweep had been highly successful in capturing or destroying huge amounts of enemy war material.

But, they say, the true test will be determined by the enemy's ability to restore supply routes to key third and fourth corps areas of South Vietnam.

Even more fundamental, the officers added, is whether the operation gained the time the South Vietnamese forces need to prepare for taking over the main combat role as more U.S. troops withdraw.

The officers, and some top Pentagon officials, indicate the final results—good or bad—will not be determined perhaps until fall.

The upbeat tone of Nixon's interim report on the Cambodian venture seemed to leave little room for the possibility that long-range results might fall short of expectations. But he did caution briefly that "we can expect setbacks and reversals" as long as the war goes on.

Military officers are much less bullish than Nixon in looking six months to a year ahead. "Signs are good," said one general. "But it remains to be seen whether the enemy can overcome the problems we have given him."

"The North Vietnamese already are making a really determined effort to re-establish their supply routes and bases west of our farthest limit of operations."

This was a reference to moves by the North Vietnamese, detected by American reconnaissance, to set up a new supply line from southern Laos using the Se Kong River, which flows into northeast Cambodia and links up with the Mekong River.

With boats, the enemy may be able to pump new supplies along a water network tying the Ho Chi Minh Trail to areas in South Vietnam where North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in the past had been dependent on the Cambodian sanctuaries, officers said.

Experts doubt whether the waterway will permit the North Vietnamese to equal the tonnage formerly moved into the Cambodian base areas from the now-severed enemy supply line. Nixon perhaps had the river bypass in mind when he indicated U.S. war planes will be in the air over Cambodia after the July 1 deadline for U.S. ground troop withdrawal.

Presumably, without the benefit of jungle cover, such enemy water traffic will be vulnerable to bombing.

There was no dissent by military officers on what Nixon termed the "splendid performance of the South Vietnamese army" in Cambodia.

But they are waiting to see whether the South Vietnamese can stand up as well against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong when U.S. ground combat presence will be markedly reduced later this year.

Postal Reform Due for Debut in the House

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's postal reform legislation makes its debut on the House floor next week, a year—and the nation's first postal strike—after it was sent to Congress.

The bill calls for a massive overhaul of the Post Office into a semi-autonomous agency able to set its own rates, wages and investment plans.

Action on the measure, which carries an 8 per cent pay hike for postal workers, is expected to head off renewed talk of a second walkout because of Congressional inaction.

The Senate is expected to consider a similar reorganization bill later this summer. Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, speaking informally to newsmen Wednesday, expressed hope the legislation could be approved by fall.

Passage of the postal reform package would conclude a drive begun three years ago when then Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien proposed a postal corporation, declaring effit of jungle cover, such enemy water traffic will be vulnerable to bombing.

There was no dissent by military officers on what Nixon termed the "splendid performance of the South Vietnamese army" in Cambodia.

But they are waiting to see whether the South Vietnamese can stand up as well against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong when U.S. ground combat presence will be markedly reduced later this year.

Crusade at 1st Assembly Church Here

Miss DeLois Wilson, of Pine Bluff, Ark., a trained and experienced childrens worker will conduct a Childrens Crusade at the First Assembly of God Church, 322 No. Main beginning June 7th and continuing until June 12th. Each evening from 7:30 P.M. to 9:30 P.M.

There will be singing, illustrated stories and Bible lessons, memory verses and other activities similar to the regular daily Vacation Bible School.

The Pastor, C. C. Truitt, invites children of all ages to attend this Bible Centered Childrens Crusade each night at 7:30 P.M.

If you desire further information you may call the pastor at 4357 or 4493, and for free transportation.

Offices Cut to Parttime Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three revenue offices in the state that were cut to part-time operation by the state Revenue Department will be restored to full five-day week service, Revenue Commissioner Bob K. Scott said Wednesday.

The offices are at Marked Tree and Rogers, which have been open two days a week, and Paris, which has been open three days a week.

The offices were placed on limited service by the Revenue Department last year in an economy move.

the 200-year-old Post Office "is in a race with disaster."

That conclusion was echoed a year later by a presidential commission. The Nixon administration introduced its reform legislation May, 1969.

Neither the House nor the Senate bill conforms exactly with the legislation submitted by the administration last year. But Blount said differences are of a technical, rather than substantive nature.

"When we first submitted the legislation, we said there were four basic things we wanted in a postal reform bill: control of our investment policy, control of our costs, proper control of our income or rates and continuity of management."

"Our feet weren't set in concrete as far as form as long as these four principles were preserved. These are principles that we will not compromise on."

Even though Congress appears likely to pass the reform legislation, the administration has received one setback: proposals for higher postage rates seem doomed this year.

In the interview, Blount did not consider passage of the rate increases a condition for acceptance of the reform and pay hike package.

Under either Senate or House bills, the new postal service would be divorced completely from the President's cabinet and be run by a board appointed by the President.

The board, in turn, would hire a manager to run the service on a day-to-day basis.

Rates would be set by a rate commission, also appointed by the President. Proposed new rates need approval of the board and, in the House version, could be vetoed by a majority vote in either chamber within 90 days.

cucumbers, squashes, watermelons and corn on the cob that money can't buy in the city.

You'd think they'd get wise to your little game, but they never do—because you've got them so piqued they aren't speaking to each other. If one of them actually does have a bad crop, say of beefsteak tomatoes, he'll scour the farms in outlying areas to buy some better ones, and palm them off on you as his own. He'll do anything rather than let you think his green thumb has turned rusty.

Of course, if you're the greedy type and there are 10 suburban gardeners in your office, you can play them all off against each other. That way you can get enough free vegetables for your wife to set up an orange crate stand in your front yard and sell them to passers-by.

But that would be carrying a good thing too far.

day to top $6 billion off the ceiling increase and require a corresponding reduction in defense spending.

A 273-85 procedural vote blocked that attempt, with 71 Democrats and 14 Republicans voting to permit amending the bill, 127 Democrats and 146 Republicans voting against.

Then opponents urged defeat of the bill, as Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., put it, "to impress on the President the need to move more rapidly toward disengagement in Southeast Asia."

But the bill passed even though some perennial opponents of debt ceiling increases joined the opposition.

Proponents argued that defeat of the bill would be irresponsible, would increase jitters in the stock and commodity markets and embarrass the government. They asserted it would not speed the end of the war.

Hope Lions to Entertain Their Ladies

The Hope Lions and their ladies will be entertained Tuesday night at the Town and Country Restaurant by talent for the Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind, Little Rock. This is an institution, sponsored by the Lions of Arkansas, which during the past 30 years has trained blind adults from 46 states and 11 foreign countries.

Beginning with a staff of four members and an annual budget of $7,500 AEB now operates with a staff of 95 members and next year's budget will be in the neighborhood of $750,000. It is one of the finest institutions of its kind in the world.

The speaker will be the Rev. Richard T. Ludden, who is chaplain at the AEB Center and field representative. Before losing his sight he was a Methodist minister in Indiana for more than 20 years. He was sent to Little Rock by his church when his sight began to fail. After completing his training he returned to Indiana to resume his ministry, but after a couple of years he resigned to accept full time employment at the AEB Center.

Musical entertainment will feature Miss Lillo Dunn, a trainee from Silver Springs, Md. She will sing and dance accompanied at the piano by Dale Wolthoff of Minneapolis, Minn., who is being trained for employment by the Internal Revenue Department.

Miss Dunn is a graduate of the University of Maryland with a degree in education. She has taught school and for several summers was a member of a Summer Theater Stock Company in Maryland. She recently entertained the Arkansas Lions at the annual convention in Hot Springs and received tremendous applause. She is not totally blind but is losing her sight because of diabetes.

Lions bringing guests other than their wives should contact either Dr. Don Freel or W.L. Tate, co-chairmen for this annual ladies night. Dinner will be served 7 o'clock and there will be special gifts for the ladies.

President of El Dorado Station Dies

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — W. N. McKinney, owner and president of station KELD of El Dorado, died in a local hospital Wednesday of lung cancer. He was 50.

McKinney began his career in broadcasting in 1935. He was president of the Arkansas Broadcasters Association in 1955 and he was presented Arkansas' first Broadcasting Pioneer Award in 1967 by the ABA.

McKinney was mayor of El Dorado from 1958-59. Survivors include his widow, two sons and two daughters.

Congressional Reform Issue to Be Factor

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats trying for leadership positions are going to be asked for their views on congressional reform proposals before the issue becomes overshadowed by a scramble for the majority leadership's post.

Reps. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin and Charles A. Vanik of Ohio, two reform minded Democrats say they hope to determine where the various candidates stand on such issues as seniority, powers of committee chairmen, and the practice of holding secret committee sessions.

Reuss and Vanik want to pin the candidates down on reform issues early in the campaign so their positions will be clearly known when the majority leadership's post is filled next year.

The leadership fight was touched off by Speaker John W. McCormack's announcement that he will retire at the end of this session. Oklahoma Rep. Carl Albert now holds the majority leader position, but is expected to be elected speaker when the new Congress convenes next January.

White House Handshaking
On July 4, 1801, President Jefferson held a reception at the White House. Jefferson introduced the custom of having the guests shake hands instead of bowing stiffly, a custom observed by Presidents Washington and Adams.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WALKING ON THIN ICE

Dear Helen: My parents think I need a psychiatrist because of the things I do, which are:

1. I cut school sometimes. Most of the kids do. It's no big thing.
2. I've tried pot, not to "escape reality" as my mother thinks, but because all the kids around here do it.
3. I lie as an excuse to go out nights. I really want to tell my parents where I'm going, but chances are 10-to-one they'd say "No!" so why bother?
4. I've stayed out all night a few times. Nothing wrong happened. I go no farther than making out.

Dear Helen: I always figured I was a cool head. I knew when to stop, though it was kind of fun, testing. Besides, the kids would think I was square if I didn't drink or smoke when everybody did.

About two months ago I went to a party, and either drank too much or else somebody put something in my drink. I didn't remember what happened. Now I'm pregnant.

I confronted my boy friend, who took my to the party, and he said I left him for a stranger in town. I don't know if he's lying or not, but he won't take any responsibility.

For a girl who thought she was smart, how could I be so stupid? I plan to run away because I can't face my parents. They were so thrilled because I'd been accepted this fall at one of the best universities. — HATING HERSELF

Dear H.H.: You can't run away from a problem that goes right along with you. Tell your parents, and get in touch with the Planned Parenthood Association in your city. They're there to help you. — H.

Dear Helen: I read the letter from "Heartbroken Mother" and it could have been written by MY mother a year ago.

I did the same thing—ran away without even leaving a note. I thought I couldn't stand my parents, but it turned out it was myself I couldn't stand. I went through some very bad times, and I did a lot of thinking. After four months my parents found me, and I learned how much they really cared. And how terribly I had hurt them.

It isn't all roses at home—there's never a completely happy ending except in story books, but we're doing a lot better. And I'll never, never knowingly make anyone this unhappy again. — FORMER RUNAWAY attend. Anyone interested in losing weight is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lloyd and children, Steve and Alecia of Little Rock, a granddaughter, and great granddaughter. Mrs. Brenda Witherspoon and Yvonne of Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Downs and family, Mesquite, Tex., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis in Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Downs in Columbus. Cindy Downs has remained for the week with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and is attending Vacation Bible School at Garrett Memorial Baptist Church, while Greg and Andy Downs are spending the week in Columbus with Mr. and Mrs. Downs.

Mrs. Norvel Coker and son, Magnolia, visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis.

Mrs. David Tucker and Megan, Columbia, Mo., are here to see Mr. and Mrs. Royce Smith and the John Robert Graves family. They will be joined next week by Mr. Tucker.

Jimmy Waddle, Dallas, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waddle this week before enrolling in summer school at ASC in Conway on Monday. Mrs. Howard Shumaker and Miss Mary Frances Lawry also visited the Waddles earlier in the week while en route home to Memphis from a wedding in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Franklin and family, Huntsville, Ala., will arrive Saturday for a 2-week visit with Mrs. R.D. Franklin.

Not from the Bible

The story of the wandering Jew is not of Biblical origin, although the legend has appeared largely in literature, especially German and French writings. The earliest English reference to this legend dates from 1236.

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Ken Hargis, Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501.

QUESTION: I'm 66 years old and didn't sign up for Medicare. Can I sign up now?

ANSWER: You may enroll for the hospital insurance at any time. There is no enrollment period. Since you did not make it this year by March 31, you may enroll in supplementary medical insurance between January 1, 1971, and March 31, 1971 with coverage effective July 1, 1971.

QUESTION: Does social security always make a death payment?

ANSWER: No, the death payment is made only if the deceased had enough work covered by social security. The amount of work required will vary from case to case.

This is a picture of five generations made at the home of Mrs. Denver Honea. Ages range from 2 to 90 years.

Heroism Uplift Is Suggested

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-three Nobel laureates in science have joined in a letter to President Nixon urging him to "rise to the heroism that these times demand and take swift and decisive steps" to end U.S. involvement in the war in Indochina.

"We agree with the stand of many that the health of this nation depends on a swift disengagement from war in Southeast Asia although the violent tactics used by some to express this are repugnant to us," the scientists said.

Announcement of the letter, whose signers represent nearly three-quarters of the Nobel science prize-winning recipients in the United States, was made Wednesday simultaneously in New York, San Francisco and Chicago.

Still Life in Arms of Old Hurlers

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

There's still some life left in the elderly pitching arms of Jim Bunning and Hank Aguirre—the hurlers nobody wanted—and Bob Gibson's batting eye isn't gone quite yet, either.

The three veteran pitchers all enjoyed banner performances Wednesday, helping their teams to victories in the rain-abbreviated National League schedule.

Bunning passed the 2,700 career strikeout mark—third on the alltime list behind only Cy Young and Walter Johnson—as Philadelphia thumped Cincinnati 11-4. Aguirre won his third game—his highest total since 1966—helping Chicago top Los Angeles 6-5 in 11 innings. And Gibson ripped three hits including a seventh inning single that broke a tie and moved St. Louis to a 6-5 victory over San Francisco.

In the only other National League game played, Houston's Jack Billingham shut out Montreal 5-0. New York at Atlanta and San Diego at Pittsburgh were both postponed by rain.

In the American League, Washington nipped Chicago 5-4, New York topped Kansas City 5-3, Cleveland edged Milwaukee 7-6, Oakland beat Baltimore 4-1 and Detroit shamed California 5-4 in 11 innings.

Bunning pitched the first six innings against the Reds and then Dick Selma finished up as Philadelphia exploded for seven runs in its last three swings to end a five-game Cincinnati winning streak.

Larry Hise's bases-loaded, two-out single broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh and then the Phillies added five wrapup runs in the ninth, two on a single by Tony Taylor, who had opened the game with a first pitch homer.

Bunning, a free-agent pickup over the winter, won his third game—not a terribly large number for most pitchers but an important plateau for Chicago's Aguirre, another ex-free agent who had not managed that many in four seasons.

Aguirre pitched the last two innings of the Cubs' 11-inning victory over Los Angeles and became the winner when hot-hitting Jim Hickman singled the deciding run home.

Hickman, on a 12-for-27 streak with 11 runs batted in and four homers over the last eight games, connected on an 0-2 pitch to drive in Glenn Beckert from second base. Beckert and Billy Williams had stroked singles, setting up the winning rally.

Gibson went the distance and it was a good thing because he did a major part of the Cardinals' hitting. He singled home a run in the second inning and singled again, setting up a run in the fourth. Then he tapped a 3-2 pitch into right field to climax the Cardinals' winning rally in the seventh.

The Giants tagged Gibson for eight hits and had him on the ropes early but couldn't deliver the knockout punch.

Billingham, making his first start of the year, extended his shutout string to 20 innings with his whitewash against Montreal. The tall right-hander scattered eight hits and struck out 10 Expos.

Tommy Davis and Denis Menke delivered RBI singles to get Houston off in front in the third inning against 19-year-old Balor Moore, who was making his first major league start.

Then Billingham's single started a three-run Astro rally in the sixth with Joe Pepitone's single accounting for two of the runs.

Casanova Loves Those White Sox

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Casanova just loves those Chicago White Sox pitchers—Tommy John in particular—while Duke Sims is taking his anger out on the Milwaukee Brewers and the Fourth Estate.

Casanova rendered John speechless Wednesday night with his third straight 3-for-3 game against the White Sox lefty as Washington rallied for a 5-4 victory.

Sims, Cleveland's catcher-turned-outfielder, belted two homers for the second game in a row in a 7-6 triumph over the Brewers and then tried to disprove Leo Durocher's theory that nice guys finish last by refusing to talk to the press.

"I don't talk, man, I don't talk to anyone," Sims snapped. "Get out of here." Then he turned and walked away.

Elsewhere in the American League, Oakland downed Baltimore 4-1, Detroit shaded California 5-4 in 11 innings and the New York Yankees topped Kansas City 5-3. Minnesota at Boston was rained out.

In the National League, Philadelphia trounced Cincinnati 11-4, St. Louis edged San Francisco 6-5, Houston blanked Montreal 5-0 and the Chicago Cubs nipped Los Angeles 6-5 in 11 innings. The New York Mets-Atlanta and San Diego-Pittsburgh games were washed out.

Casanova, whose streak against John dates back to season, singled in the third inning, doubled home the final two runs of a four-run fourth and singled in the sixth. Besides going 9-for-9 against John in their last three meetings, Casanova has driven in 10 runs over that stretch.

Sims, reportedly irked because a newsman allegedly misquoted him, got the Indians started with a three-run homer in the first inning and connected again in the third to snap a 4-4 tie. That gave him three consecutive homers, including his last time at bat Tuesday night, but he grounded into a double play on his next trip.

The Brewers scored twice in the eighth to trim a 7-4 deficit and loaded the bases with one out in the ninth. But Dennis Higgins fanned Steve Hovley and Dick Ellsworth came on with a 3-0 count on Tommy Harper, who had homered earlier, and got him to bounce into a force play on the 3-1 pitch.

Sal Bando walloped a three-run tie-breaking homer off Baltimore's Mike Cuellar in the eighth inning to lift the A's to victory. Oakland's Frank Fernandez hit a solo homer in the second while Frank Robinson matched that for the Orioles in the seventh.

Robinson's blow was one of only two hits off Oakland starter Roland Fingers, who left for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

The Tigers, held to two hits and trailing the Angels 3-0, erupted for four runs in the ninth against Andy Messersmith and two relievers. Gates Brown started it with a pinch homer and Jim Northrup cracked a three-run homer with two out to put the Tigers in front 4-3.

The Angels tied it in the last of the ninth on Alex Johnson's run-scoring single, but Detroit won it in the 11th when Stanley singled, stole second and scored on a single by Willie Horton.

The Yankees trailed the Royals 3-2 with one out in the fifth when they kayoed Dick Drago with three consecutive extra-base hits—a triple by Bobby Murcer, Roy White's game-ending double and Danny Cater's fourth homer.

Missouri State Wins, 6-2

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Southwest Missouri State with sharp mound work by Ken Watkins, defeated San Fernando Valley, Calif., State 6-2 and Nicholls, La., State, with outstanding defense, took Springfield, Mass., 3-1 in the opening round of the NCAA College Division National Baseball Tournament Wednesday night.

Tonight the host Southwest Bears met Nicholls in the winner's bracket finals at 7:00. San Fernando faces Springfield, Mass., at 1:30 p.m. in the loser's bracket.

Defending Champ Likes Recognition

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "It's nice to be noticed," Dale Douglass said today before setting out in defense of his title in the $150,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

"Even if it's only a little bit. You know, people fussing over you, asking if the hotel accommodations are okay and things like that."

"I guess maybe people recognize me a little more this year than before."

Douglass, a pencil-slim year-old who packs only 155 pounds on his 6-foot-2 frame, hadn't been bothered with much fuss until he came into his own a year ago and made the Kemper his first major title in eight years on the pro tour.

For one thing, he's just one of those people who don't attract much attention. "The only thing different about me is that I spell my name with two S's," he said. For another, he hadn't made much of a splash.

The Oklahoma native, now a resident of Fort Morgan, Colo., had done little more than make expenses in his first five years on the tour, then made a move with $57,000 in winnings in 1968.

Then came 1969, a change in fortunes and a change in attitude.

He warmed up by winning the satellite Azalea Open, then crashed through in the Kemper. Since then he made the Ryder Cup team, cashed more than $91,000 in checks in 1969, this year won the Phoenix Open and finished second in a playoff to Don Janney for the Jacksonville Open title.

"I don't know that I'm doing anything differently mechanically," the quiet, thoughtful Douglass said.

"I don't know if the win here last year was the cause of it, but I found myself letting down unconsciously in the late rounds if I didn't have a chance to win."

"It was an all-or-nothing thing. I didn't really think that way, but something in the back of my mind was working like that."

"I think I've about got it worked out now."

Douglass, one of the most active players on the tour, has averaged over 35 tournaments a year the last four years and has missed only three weeks this season. He's made more than $50,000.

He was one of the top choices in the field of 144 to take the $30,000 first prize this year.

Other leading contenders included Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Frank Beard, Dan Sikes, Gene Littler, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf and Bert Yancey. Gary Player and Billy Casper are not competing.

The 72-hole test began today on the 7,231-yard, par 72 Quail Hollow Country Club course.

Pro Football Actually Less of a Risk

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you had the money to invest in a major league sport would you buy a baseball team or a pro football club?

If you answered baseball you are probably being emotional. Purchasing a pro football club involves less financial risk.

That, at least, might be the lesson learned from testimony Wednesday in the Curt Flood case as baseball paraded three club owners to the stand as defense witnesses to support the sport's contention that the reserve system is necessary to its operation.

Two of the owners, Francis Dale of the Cincinnati Reds, and Bob Reynolds of the California Angels, also have been involved in pro football ownership and cited the major difference between the sports as being in the area of player development.

"Investment in a pro football team involves less risk," said Dale, who also has an interest in pro football's Cincinnati Bengals, after he had completed testifying.

"The nature of the investment is different—it goes for different things. Pro football doesn't have a farm system to support and there is no lag of three to four years before a player who is signed can make contributions at the major league level."

Dale, Reynolds and John McHale, of the Montreal Expos, all estimated that their clubs would spend approximately $1 million on player development and acquisition this season and needed the safeguard of the reserve system to assure a return to their investment.

Dale said on the stand he didn't think baseball could operate successfully with pro football's contract clause in which a player can play out his option and become a free agent.

"I would not be willing to invest $350,000 to $400,000 to bring a player to the major league level and then find I might lose him after a year," said Dale. "The ownership system would break down."

Reynolds, a former part owner of pro football Los Angeles Rams, also cited player development as the major difference between the sports.

All three owners said they had invested in their clubs only with the knowledge that baseball has scored on Willie Horton's single to give the Detroit Tigers a 5-4 victory over California Wednesday night following a wild ninth inning which sent the game into overtime.

The Tigers, held to two hits for eight innings by Andy Messersmith and trailing 3-0, erupted for four runs in the top of the ninth.

With one out, pinch hitter Gates Brown homered, Al Kaline singled and Paul Doyle relieved Messersmith, only to be tagged for a pinch single by Stanley.

That brought on Ken Tatum, who got Horton to hit into a force play before Jim Northrup slammed his seventh homer over the right field fence, putting the Tigers in front 4-3.

The Angels bounced right back to tie it on Sandy Alomar's infield hit, a sacrifice and Alex Johnson's single but John Hillier, the fourth Detroit pitcher, retired Chico Ruiz and Jay Johnstone with the bases loaded.

Hyndman Is After the British Title

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland (AP) — "After that kind of a day I can taste it."

That's how Bill Hyndman, 54, of Philadelphia, reacted today to his chances of winning the 1970 British Amateur Golf Championship in which he has been a finalist bridesmaid twice in the past 10 years.

"I really want this one now," he said.

The cherub-faced Hyndman was not exaggerating about his feelings.

He got through the second round Wednesday morning on the third extra hole. He was three up and three to play and proceeded to lose three holes in a row to Matt Lygate of Scotland.

On the extra play, he managed to get rid of the problem three holes later. Then he whipped through the third round in the afternoon with a 6 and 5 victory over Ian Mosey, England, that spared his aging legs.

Looking over his shoulder at Hyndman was defending champion Michael Bonallack of England who coasted to a 2 and 1 victory over Oliver Gough of Ireland in the third round.

A year ago Bonallack beat Hyndman in the final 3 and 2 and still counts himself lucky to have done it.

"He frightens me," Bonallack said laconically.

The round of 32 starting out today in this marathon match play grind has survived shifting conditions.

Early in the week biting winds made the 6,928-yard par-71 Royal County Down links on the Irish Sea coast uncomfortable to say the least. Then hot sun and a gentle breeze turned the course brown, hard and impossible for the mere power hitter.

The emphasis now is on delicacy. Eighteen-hole matches will cut the field to 16 for the quarter-finals this afternoon with the same distance dictated for Friday's semi-finals.

Williams' Says Hope Firm Product Ranks at Top in Mobile Homes Exhibit

Carty Could Reach .400

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "I've always said that another man will hit .400," says Ted Williams. "It's stupid to say anything will never be accomplished. And this (Rico) Carty just may be the guy to do it."

The happy Atlanta Braves outfielder from the Dominican Republic would be the first major leaguer to hit .400 in 29 years if he continues at his present torrid pace—a lousy .435 average through 47 games.

Williams was the last one to do it, hitting .406 in 1941.

"The one thing he has to avoid is a prolonged slump," said Williams in a telephone interview with The Atlanta Journal. "And he's gotta be lucky, get the breaks. I got plenty of breaks my year. But the one advantage he has is speed. I know he says he doesn't have much speed, but he's quick. I know, I've seen him."

Drawing the collar in one game has been a slump for Carty this year. The free-swinging slugger has hit safely in 42 of his 47 games this season, including one 31-game hitting binge and another that carried through nine games.

"Rico was just born to be a hitter," says teammate Orlando Cepeda. "He just may be the best ever."

But Rico doesn't appear to be concerned, possibly because he's missed out on several baseball honors.

For example, Carty was the National League's No. 2 hitter in 1964 with a .330 mark his rookie season, but rookie of the year honors went to Richie Allen who hit .318.

Last year Carty missed out on the comeback of the year award, which went to Tommie Agee of the New York Mets. Carty had missed the entire 1968 season with tuberculosis and suffered through three shoulder separations in 1969, but still managed to hit .342 for the year and .390 in a September drive that saw Atlanta win 20 of 27 games and capture the National League West flag.

This year he added another omission to his growing list. Carty wasn't included on the All-Star game ballot, selected last winter.

"Nobody can make me build up my mind to .400," says Carty. "Nothing is impossible, but I'm not going to think about it. That's when you get in trouble."

Featuring exposed interiors, Young American Homes' award-winning display at the Southwest Mobile Homes show held in Houston, Texas introduced many new innovations in mobile home design and decorations. Based in Hope, Arkansas, Young American Homes manufactures five different models of the YOUNG AMERICAN line.

Meantime a field of seven seemed to be shaping up for Saturday's 1 1/2 mile classic.

3rd Candidate for Lieutenant Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Bob C. Riley, 45, of Arkadelphia, a political science professor at Ouachita Baptist University, Wednesday became the third person to file for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Charles D. Matthews, Democratic party state chairman, opened the party headquarters Wednesday night to accept Riley's papers after Matthews was told by telephone that Riley wanted to file.

Riley said his filing was done at the abnormal hour because he happened to be in town en route to St. Louis for a seminar and wanted to complete a portion of the procedure while he

Hope Firm Is Runnerup at Houston Show

Young American Homes, Hope, Arkansas was chosen First Runner-Up for the most outstanding exhibit at the recent Southwest Mobile Home Show held at the Astrohall in Houston, Texas, Young American Homes manufactures the exciting new "Young American" line of mobile homes.

In accepting the award, J.R. Bennett, General Manager of Young American Homes and Executive Vice President of Mid-America Housing, Inc. said "We are very proud of this award. For a company in its first year of manufacturing to win a coveted award of this magnitude is gratifying. Much hard work and planning was put into our display."

Young American Homes display consisted of four homes with side panels removed, exposing the newest innovations in mobile home design and decor. Colored lights highlighted the entire display which was completely covered overhead by red and blue panels of silk.

Commenting on Young American Homes' results from the Houston show, Tony Mays, Vice President-Marketing, said, "We were most gratified by the enthusiastic response our line of Young Americans received. Dealers from all over the Southwest expressed their interest in our unique floor plans and decor. As a result, sales far exceeded our projections for this show."

Receiving the First Runner-Up Award for best exhibit in the Southwest Mobile Show held recently in Houston, Texas are Tony Mays, Vice President Marketing (I.), and J. R. Bennett, General Manager of Young American Mobile Homes, Hope, Arkansas.

Jury Disagrees in Rape Case

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A Phillips County Circuit Court Jury failed to reach a verdict here Wednesday in the trial of Daniel Montgomery Jr., 33, of Helena, on a first-degree rape charge.

Montgomery, a Negro, was charged in the alleged Oct. 17, 1969, attack on a young white woman.

Circuit Judge Elmo Taylor of Searcy said a new trial would be held in September.

In addition to the Young American plant in Hope, Arkansas, Mid-America Housing also manufactures the Young American and Bravo lines in their Young American Homes Division in Albertville, Alabama. Included in Mid-America's operations besides the manufacturing end is a Modular Structures Division. Mid-America also has plans for the financing and franchising of mobile homes and park development.

L-Dope Use Approved by Government

By G.C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today approved the general use of L-dopa, a new drug widely hailed as the first effective help for the hundreds of thousands of Americans suffering from Parkinson's Disease.

The Food and Drug Administration, under heavy public pressure, cleared the drug for sale in an unusually short time.

But the FDA also ordered unprecedented follow up testing by manufacturers because of the high incidents of adverse side effects associated with L-dopa.

"This new drug shows promise of being one of the major drug discoveries of recent years," said Dr. Charles C. Edwards, commissioner of the FDA. "As a treatment for Parkinson's Disease, it is important to possibly as many as a million Americans suffering from this affliction."

Parkinson's Disease is a disorder of the central nervous system, usually affecting persons over 50 and causing leg and arm tremors that often progress to total rigidity. There has been no effective drug treatment for the incapacitating disease.

Edwards said clinical tests in this country since 1966 indicate approximately two of three patients are partially or totally relieved of their symptoms by L-dopa.

He cautioned, however, that "side effects have been reported in a majority of patients, some of them quite unpleasant and others even dangerous."

"Whether or not the use of this drug is justified in the very early stages of Parkinson's has not been established," the commissioner said.

The side effects range from nausea to intestinal bleeding, heart problems and mental disturbances of varying severity.

L-dopa also is believed to act as a sexual stimulant in many patients tested.

"Evidence to date shows clearly that benefits outweigh the risks," Edwards said.

"For the first time in FDA history," he said, "manufacturers will be required to conduct long-term studies of the drug's effects."

"Since Parkinsonism is a chronic disease, patients will have to take L-dope for long periods of time," Edwards said. "We don't know how these patients will react after five, 10 or 15 years of treatment."

"Because of our limited knowledge of the drug's long-term toxicity, it is conceivable that it can reverse the benefits to risk ratio," he said.

L-dopa is a naturally occurring substance known as an amino acid. It is converted to a product called dopamine in the body.

While the drug's precise method of action is not known, victims of Parkinson's Disease have decreased amounts of dopamine in their brains.

Bill Designed to Protect Consumers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House agriculture subcommittee opens hearings next week on a proposal to ban the importation of foods treated with pesticides restricted in the United States.

Agriculture Committee chairman W.R. Poage, D-Tex., sponsor of the bill, said today the prohibition is designed to protect consumers from possible health dangers and eliminate unfair economic competition from abroad.

"It would be illogical and unacceptable to provide consumers with only partial protection from whatever dangers may be inherent in using certain pesticides," said Poage.

"If it is determined that a chemical is detrimental to a person's health, then he should not be exposed to it on foods grown in either this country or abroad."

In addition, Poage said, it would be unfair to restrict domestic farmers' use of some pesticides while allowing competitive items from overseas without the same limits.

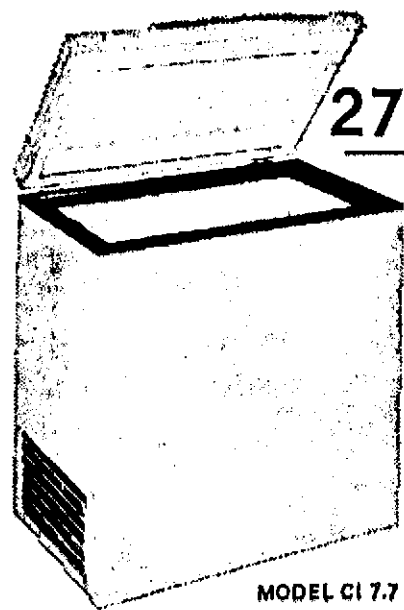

He noted competition from abroad is already severe because laborers in other lands are paid less than U.S. workers.

He said his bill would prohibit imports of foods from any country unless the President has determined the nation involved enforces antipesticide restrictions at least equal to those applicable in the United States.

Most of the time the negative double is used with a rather weak hand—7-11 high card points. The idea is that it gives you a chance to compete safely at a low level. This doesn't mean that you can't use it with a very strong hand as the start toward a slam.

The way to get to the slam is to follow the negative double with a cue bid of the enemy suit. This cue bid by responder does not necessarily show control of the adverse suit. It merely announces that responder is forcing to game.

North and South were playing the simple negative double so that North's double of one spade guaranteed hearts.

South's two-heart bid was the normal response to the double. His jump to four hearts after North's cue bid merely showed that he had bid his two hearts cheerfully. Remember that the two heart call had not shown any additional values.

The four-heart bid was enough to send North winging to the slam. He even tried five no-trump as a mild try for seven.

Six hearts makes easily. South wins the spade lead, draws trumps, discards dummy's losing spade on the long club and eventually loses a diamond.

Six clubs can't be made because there are only 11 tricks in that suit. The 4-4 heart fit produces the extra trick with hearts as trump: the 5-4 club fit won't help with clubs as trump.

Six hearts might well be reached without the use of the negative double. These modern wonder bids aren't always essential. All we can say is that the negative double sure helped this time.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

4-CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	4 ♥
Pass	5 ♣	Pass	Pass

You, South, hold:

♠ 2 ♠ A K 5 1 ♦ 8 4 2 ♣ K J 9 7

What do you do now?

A—Bid either five or six hearts. You should bid six if you can be sure that your partner won't have more than one diamond.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five clubs your partner has bid four no-trump over your four hearts and continued to five no-trump after you have shown him one ace. What do you do now?

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Low Blood Pressure Can Be Cause of Stroke

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I had a slight stroke four months ago. What can I do to prevent another one?

A—Prevention depends on the early recognition and treatment of such predisposing causes as high blood pressure, a high blood cholesterol level, gout, diabetes, excessive smoking, obesity and chronic nervous tension. Anticoagulants may be given if the stroke is due to clotting in one of the arteries of the brain.

Q—Is it possible for a person with a low blood pressure to have a stroke?

A—Yes. High blood pressure is only one of the predisposing causes.

Q—I am a housewife, 87. I have low blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. Twice last week I started to talk but my tongue felt thick and I couldn't control my speech. Could a stroke have been the cause?

A—This could have been due to a very mild stroke, but other conditions involving the speech center in the brain should be ruled out.

Q—Would a stroke cause

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's progress report on Indochina, carried by the three major networks and many independent stations Wednesday night, was brief and to the point.

The President went on the air live promptly at 9 p.m. EDT, and finished 15 minutes later. His address was unusual in that film clips were cut in showing weapons and supplies seized by the United States and South Vietnamese troops during the Cambodia operation—film supplied by the White House.

After he finished, correspondents of all three networks took over for another 15 minutes for a summary, adding a few embellishments or statistics here or there.

Des O'Connor and his London-based summer "Music Hall" series on NBC may not constitute the most electrifying entertainment, but O'Connor has a nice understated way with humor, an attractive singing voice and sort of grows on the viewer.

An important member of his cast is a little dog who attempts to nip O'Connor—no one else—whenever he gets near. This week Des added a talking trout who did vocal impressions of James Stewart and Kirk Douglas.

Weakest element of the show is the comedy sketches which seem to add up to a lot of noise, people and confusion but few laughs.

"Music Hall" subscribes to the tenet that television performers seen weekly in their own series make exciting guest stars. This week the American imports were Joanne Worley doing just about what she does on "Laugh-In" and Dan Blocker doing something designed as comedy.

In one segment, Miss Worley walked up to Blocker, dressed in the uniform of the guards of the Tower of London.

"Are you a Beefeater?" she asked.

"No, I'm a vegetarian," he replied.

Blackout and the incomprehensible sound of studio audience laughter.

Andy Griffith, Mary Tyler Moore and Danny Thomas all will return to network television in new series next season. Each is a star pretty much created by television

Don't Kiss a Hedgehog
SKEGNESS, England (AP) — Every time Peter Thawley tried to kiss the hedgehog, he got a mouthful of prickly spines. So he blew it up with a bicycle pump instead.
Thawley found the foot-long hedgehog floating unconscious in a goldfish pond.
"I tried to give it the kiss of life but you can't kiss a hedgehog—it hurts," Thawley said. "I put my bicycle pump in his mouth and inflated him, squeezing his stomach to force the air in and out."
The animal revived, drank a few spoonfuls of brandy and waddled off.

YOU'RE LOOKING UP at an 11-story-high portable tower which can be set up in a day and dismantled in a few hours by a crew of six. The structure is one of 75 being used in a geographic survey in Maryland. U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey teams use the towers as surveying platforms to gather information for future development of Prince Georges County.

State Workers Pay Is Over $2 Billion
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Wages paid to Arkansas workers during 1969 surpassed the $2 billion mark for the first time in the state's history, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday.
The governor said 398,122 workers were paid $2,036,296,234 in 1969. He said the "healthy economy" of the state was reflected in last year's average weekly wage of $98.36, an increase of $6.08 over the 1968 weekly average.
Rockefeller said business records showed $207.7 million was spent to build 77 new plants and to expand 135 existing plants during 1969. He said this was the largest on record, topping the previous high of 1966 by $3 million.
As a result of the investment, Rockefeller said, at least 15,106 additional jobs were expected to be created when the facilities are completed and in full production.
Rockefeller reported that unemployed workers covered by the state's unemployment insurance law would be eligible on July 1 for a maximum weekly benefit of $50, an increase of $3 over the 1969 maximum.
Seeks Sewer Replacement
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The North Little Rock Sewer Commission filed suit here Wednesday seeking repair and replacement of sewer pipe that collapsed last month.
The suit was filed against Smith Engineering Co. of Hot Springs, Danco Construction Co. of North Little Rock and Can-Tex Inc., an Indiana firm that allegedly manufactured the pipe.
The suit contended that the collapse of the line was due to inadequate engineering and construction and an inferior type of pipe.

Hopes He Can Defeat Senator Fulbright

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Unable to defeat Sen. J. W. Fulbright at the ballot box in 1968, a former state Supreme Court justice has begun a campaign that he hopes will lead to the recall of the Vietnam war critic.

Former Justice Jim Johnson believes that the Arkansas Democrat's continued opposition to the war in Southeast Asia, views on student dissent and vote against Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell have angered so many Arkansians that voters now want to remove from office the senator they re-elected less than two years ago.

To give them a chance to vote on it, Johnson heads a petition campaign to place on the November general election ballot a state constitutional amendment setting up the procedures for recalling statewide officers and, specifically, U.S. senators. Doubts have been expressed about the constitutionality of such an amendment, but if he is successful in November Johnson plans to petition for an election on the recall of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee chairman.

Johnson is confident that he will obtain the more than 62,000 signatures needed by July 3 to get the proposed amendment on the ballot. He has said he has put petitions in the hands of 14,000 persons, many of whom helped him by gathering 130,000 signatures in his petition campaign to put George Wallace's name on the Arkansas presidential ballot in 1968.

Johnson says he feels a "great personal responsibility" that Fulbright is still in the Senate because he was unable to push the senator into a runoff in the 1968 Democratic primary race in which Johnson ran second in a four-man field.

Once a state senator, Johnson resigned from the Supreme Court in 1966 to wage a successful race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, but lost in the general election to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Johnson claims he could have forced a runoff and Fulbright's defeat in 1968 if he had not divided his attention by heading Wallace's third-party effort and Mrs. Johnson's candidacy for governor.

Fulbright escaped a runoff by about 3 per cent of the vote, Wallace won Arkansas' electoral votes and Mrs. Johnson, like her husband, lost.

Since Johnson began his recall campaign, questions have arisen about whether the U.S. Constitution permits a state to recall a senator.

District Judge Alfred C. Hagan of the state of Idaho killed an effort in 1967 to recall Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, by ruling that the U.S. Constitution did not give the states power of recall, but the issue apparently has not been fully tested in the courts.

Part of Hagan's ruling was that a state recall would violate a U.S. constitutional provision that declares each house of Congress the judge of the qualifications of its own members.

James A. Williamson, Fictitious license, $31.15 fine and it was completely incapable of winning on the battlefield."

But with Fulbright's "additional...subversion of the President's efforts to pursue the enemy in Southeast Asia," Johnson said, "there is no question in my mind but that the people are now in the mood to recall Fulbright."

Johnson also cited Fulbright's vote against Carswell and the senator's statement that if the U.S. government is overthrown it will be by "right-wing radicals flying the American flag" and not by the Viet Cong.

Johnson has run newspaper advertisements in California, Texas, Louisiana and other states soliciting financial support for his campaign. He said his initial advertising investment of $480 returned $1,100 in contributions.

"People outside the state agree with us that he (Fulbright) is a national and international problem, not just an Arkansas problem," Johnson said.

Foreign Policy Handled by Senate Becomes Absurd

If Senate attempts to dictate foreign policy, leave the American public bewildered at least one good thing will come of this confusion—a better understanding by the public as to why the founders of this republic lodged primary responsibility for foreign policy with the executive branch rather than the legislative branch of government.

Here is a sample of Senate thinking on foreign affairs: Senators propose to cut off military funds in Southeast Asia, where we have solemn defense treaties to honor, and where the threat of war between major powers is remote—but at almost the same moment three-fourths of the senators sign a letter urging President Nixon to sell additional warplanes to Israel, with whom we have no defense treaty, in the Middle East, where one miscalculation could spark an atomic war between the United States and Russia.

Obviously the Senate has a ward-heeler's political complex when dealing with grave foreign issues. For instance, our people have virtually no personal ties with Southeast Asia, and some senators think it is good politics to play up to the families who have boys fighting over there, regardless of the obligation of government to honor a treaty contract.

On the other hand, aid to Israel is supposed to win senatorial votes from the millions of Jews who live in the United States. Is this "foreign policy"—or a low-grade version of local politics?

Make no mistake about one thing: All the sympathies of the American people are on the side of Israel and against the Arabs. The Israeli have gotten planes from us in the past, and President Nixon indicated yesterday he is thinking of sending them still more. But this is a decision for the President, not the Senate.

Left to its own devices the vote-counting Senate might well come up with a miscalculation that would bring down on us a confrontation with Russia.

It is the President and his Executive Department who have the primary responsibility for weighing the size of the Russian arms buildup in the Middle East and determining when and how much to give Israel for self-defense.

Almost every American wants to see Russia blocked in her attempt to seize the Arab world—but we want the decision made by the President.

The Senate has already compromised itself by talking surrender to the Communists in Southeast Asia—how then can it expect to be trusted by the people on anything it says about the Middle East?

$2.5 Billion for Flood Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $7.4-billion Agriculture Department appropriation bill—including about $2.5 billion for special food programs—cleared the House Appropriations Committee today.

As sent to the House floor for debate next week, the bill would provide about $125 million less than the President requested for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee cut from the request $480 million in largely bookkeeping transactions for the Commodity Credit Corporation, then added allotments for nutrition and other programs for the net $125 million cut.

The committee added $104 million for the special milk program to provide free milk to needy children and cut-price milk to others. The administration had not budgeted anything for the program. The amount the committee recommended is expected to provide about 3 billion half-pints of milk to about 17 million school children.

The committee approved all $1.25 billion requested for the food stamp program, which enables needy families to purchase food at reduced prices.

Also approved was $200 million for free and reduced-price lunches for an estimated 6.6 million needy children.

Debit Ceiling Raised by $18 Billion

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After surviving war critics' attacks in the House, a bill to raise the national debt ceiling by $18 billion heads for the Senate amid indications its quick passage might hinge on the Cambodian war policy debate.

The House passed the measure Wednesday by a 238-127 vote. It permits raising the national debt limit from $377 billion to $395 billion.

Some senators mentioned the possibility that action on the bill might be delayed if debate continues on another measure to curtail military spending in Cambodia.

The debt ceiling bill must be passed by July 1 or the government will be unable to pay its bills.

The Nixon administration asked for the increase to cover expected deficits in the budget.

While the budget projects a deficit of only $1.3 billion for the year beginning July 1, this figure does not reflect the use of surpluses in special trust funds—which become part of the debt—or the likelihood that not all President Nixon's revenue proposals will be approved.

Congressional estimates indicated general revenues might be as much as $16.8 billion below expenditures.

War critics in the House first tried to amend the bill Wednesday.

Higher Cost and Less Profit Causing Nation's Plants to Cut Back

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers—beset by higher costs, dropping profits and tight money—are cutting back their plans for installing new production equipment, two government agencies report.

Non-manufacturing industries are going ahead with their expansion plans.

The Securities and Exchange Commission and the Commerce Department said Wednesday all industries expect to spend $81.4 billion for expansion this year, a 7.8 per cent increase over the $75.6 billion they spent last year. The 1969 increase was 11.5 per cent.

When the two agencies last made the survey, three months ago, they said the businessmen planned to invest $82.9 billion. The reduction since then follows the pattern of recent quarters and indicated businessmen are finding it hard to obtain the money to finance as much expansion as they would like.

Manufacturing industries expect to spend $32.8 billion this year, compared to the $34.6 billion expectation they had three months ago and actual 1969 spending of $31.7 billion.

Non-manufacturing industries plan to spend $48.6 billion, up from the $43.3 billion they anticipated three months ago and the $43.9 billion they spent last year.

The projections gave support to Nixon administration predictions of 8 per cent expansion. One government economist termed it "a reinforcement type of report."

He said the declining stock market may have influenced the cutback in expectations. When the survey was taken, in late April and May, the market was in a savage decline that has been reversed only recently.

Two Escapees Recaptured

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Two men who escaped from Cummins Prison Farm Tuesday were captured Wednesday afternoon near the Cornerstone community in Jefferson County.

The two were Charles Wells, 35, serving three years for burglary, grand larceny, forgery and uttering from Pulaski County, and Hammond Everett, 36, serving eight years for burglary and grand larceny from Pulaski County.

Arnette Is Candidate for Sheriff

Larry Arnette of Hope today announced his candidacy for Sheriff and Collector of Hempstead County.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Arnette and is married to the former Terry McMannus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMannus. Larry is 28 years of age and is a life-long resident of Hempstead County. Larry and his wife reside at 1506 South Edgewood in Hope with their son, Tim.

Larry attended Texarkana

LARRY ARNETTE

Junior College for 2 years and has had experience in retail sales and farming, and is currently employed as a car salesman in Hope. In announcing his candidacy, Larry makes the following statements:

"I feel that I am familiar with the problems of Hempstead County, and if elected to the office of Sheriff and Collector, I shall endeavor to carry out the duties of the office in a fair and impartial manner. I will be a full time officer and pledge that the smaller communities of our County will receive the protection that they deserve. I would sincerely appreciate the vote and support of all persons of the County in making this race."

Enemy Takes Town in Cambodia

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces captured a town 10 miles southeast of Phnom Penh today and battled for control of a provincial capital. A spokesman said the Cambodian military command reported.

The attack on Set Bo, to the southeast, was the closest major fighting yet to the Cambodian capital. A spokesman said the attack came during the night and the last government resistance was knocked out at 7 a.m. But he said the Cambodian army was launching a counter-offensive.

Eighty miles north of Phnom Penh, fighting was reported still going on in the provincial capital of Kompong Thom, a town of about 25,000 on the highway to Angkor Wat.

The spokesman said enemy forces had been massing for several days around Kompong Thom, which was cut off from Phnom Penh last week by the capture of a district capital just south of it and destruction of a major highway bridge.

Kompong Thom's defenders requested air bombardment of the enemy positions Wednesday, the spokesman said, but "due to the hour it was not possible." He said he had no reports of air activity in the area today, but that a sizeable force of government regulars was on hand to defend the town.

In the past, the militia was the only defense of some major points and buckled before the Communist command's battle-hardened troops last week. South-Vietnamese troops saved Prey Veng, another provincial capital southeast of Phnom Penh, but the nearest South Vietnamese forces to Kompong Thom were 65 miles away.

The attacks at Set Bo and Kompong Thom appeared to be a continuation of a Communist tactic of pressure over a wide area to score propaganda gains and confuse the Cambodian high command.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam flew to Phnom Penh today with a delegation of cabinet ministers, and the Cambodian government lessened restrictions on Vietnamese refugees who had been herded into camps in Phnom Penh during the early days of the fighting. The refugees were given the run of the city from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m.

But Defense officials say a final decision has not been made on whether to go into full production of the B1, which is tentatively scheduled to replace the B52 in the middle and late 1970s.

The new bomber is seen by Defense officials as one of two major new weapons systems designed to update the U.S. strategic force in the late 1970s. The other is the Undersea Long-Range Missile System—a new Navy submarine.

Last year, the committee and Congress approved the full $100 million sought by the Pentagon to begin research on the B1. But indications are that only about half of the funds will have been spent when the fiscal year ends June 30.

The defendant entered a plea of guilty on May 21, 1970, before Federal Judge Paul X. Williams in Texarkana, Arkansas, for permitting or requiring drivers to operate motor vehicles for more than 10 hours after 8 consecutive hours off duty, with permitting or requiring drivers to operate motor vehicles and perform other duties for more than 70 hours in 8 consecutive day periods, and with permitting or requiring drivers to maintain false daily logs.

Defendant was required to pay $500 of said fine and the remaining $200 was suspended.

Senate Cuts Funds for Bombers

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee, in a surprising turnabout, has voted tentatively to cut in half the $100 million requested by the Nixon administration for the B1, a new long-range Air Force bomber.

The action came, sources close to the committee said Wednesday, during a lightly attended session on the $10 billion military procurement authorization bill.

Because only about half of the 18 members were on hand, the action could be reversed before the committee completes work on the bill later this month.

The reduction in funds for the B1, formerly called the Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft, followed partially a recommendation by a special research and development subcommittee which reportedly favored an even deeper slash.

The reported $50 million cut in B1 funds could create a collision later with the House, which approved the entire $100 million Pentagon request.

The Senate committee is considering the measure as the Pentagon prepares to select a company to take the B1 into its research design and development phase, likely to cost up to $2 billion.

But Defense officials say a final decision has not been made on whether to go into full production of the B1, which is tentatively scheduled to replace the B52 in the middle and late 1970s.

The new bomber is seen by Defense officials as one of two major new weapons systems designed to update the U.S. strategic force in the late 1970s. The other is the Undersea Long-Range Missile System—a new Navy submarine.

Last year, the committee and Congress approved the full $100 million sought by the Pentagon to begin research on the B1. But indications are that only about half of the funds will have been spent when the fiscal year ends June 30.

The defendant entered a plea of guilty on May 21, 1970, before Federal Judge Paul X. Williams in Texarkana, Arkansas, for permitting or requiring drivers to operate motor vehicles for more than 10 hours after 8 consecutive hours off duty, with permitting or requiring drivers to operate motor vehicles and perform other duties for more than 70 hours in 8 consecutive day periods, and with permitting or requiring drivers to maintain false daily logs.

Defendant was required to pay $500 of said fine and the remaining $200 was suspended.

AP News Digest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told the nation that all of the United States' major military objectives in Cambodia have been accomplished and repeated his promise to withdraw all U.S. troops from Cambodia by June 30. In an interim report to the nation, Nixon called the operation the "most successful" of the Vietnam war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hours before President Nixon's report to the nation on Cambodia, the Senate defeated a proposal designed to negate a measure cutting off funds for U.S. operations in Cambodia after June 30.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior U.S. military officers say it is too early to tell whether the allied sweep through Cambodia sanctuaries will be a long-range success. They said an evaluation, based on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong ability to provide alternate methods of supplying forces formerly served by the sanctuaries, cannot be made until fall.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces have captured a town 10 miles southeast of Phnom Penh and are also battling for control of a provincial capital in the central part of the country. The attack on Set Bo marked the closest major fighting to Phnom Penh since the current Cambodian conflict began.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has approved the general use of L-dopa, a new drug widely hailed as the first effective help for the hundreds of thousands of Americans suffering from Parkinson's disease. The Food and Drug Administration, under heavy public pressure, cleared the drug in an unusually short time but ordered unprecedented follow up testing by manufacturers to detail adverse side effects.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to raise the national debt has been sent to the Senate after weathering war critics' attacks in the House. The critics had attempted to cut down on the $18 billion increase proposed in the bill and compensate by decreasing defense spendings by a like amount.

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A strong earthquake, apparently after-shock of the major quake that devastated Peru last weekend, has shaken Lima, but there were no immediate reports of damage or loss of life. Meanwhile, airborne rescue operations continue for the area shattered Sunday.

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli pilot claims that it is the skill of the pilots, rather than the planes, that create Israeli air superiority in the Middle East, as his air force announces the downing of the 101st Egyptian warplane since the 1967 war.

At Second and North Hazel Streets yesterday cars driven by Mariven Norton and Joyce Russell collided with considerable damage resulting. City Patrolman Richard Rowe charged Mariven Norton with running a stop sign.

The Hope Baptist Church Bible School starts Monday, June 8 and continues through June 12 for youths ages 8 through 12. The school is from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. daily, for transportation call Mrs. Carl Thornton 77-5577.

At Boys State Calvin Willis was named Circuit Judge of Harrison and Ken Trout was named Circuit Judge of Arkansas county.

The Summer Head Start Program will begin Monday, June 8, at Brookwood School from 8 a.m. to 12 noon each day for eight weeks. Bus stops will be at Palsley school and Hopewell School about 7:45 a.m. daily.

Larry E. Conway, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee D. Dennis of Hope, Ark., recently was promoted to Army Specialist four while serving as a radio repairman with Company C of the 25th Infantry Division's 725th Maintenance Battalion near Cu Chi, Vietnam.

There will be a number of centennial observances in Hope during the next few years.... Whitfield Masonic Lodge will be 100 years old this November 1970, and the City of Hope was incorporated in 1875, so that celebration is only 5 years away.

Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will confer a Fellowcraft degree at 7:30 p.m. Friday, June 5.

Nixon Thinks Cambodia Hit Successful

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Proclaiming "all our major military objectives" accomplished, President Nixon says U.S. forces will be completely withdrawn from Cambodia by June 30 and 50,000 more American troops will be pulled out of Vietnam by Oct. 15.

"I can now state that this has been the most successful operation of this long and difficult war," Nixon told the nation Wednesday night in a broadcast speech on the month-old campaign to destroy North Vietnamese bases and war supplies on Cambodian territory.

He pictured his critics—who accused him of widening and prolonging the war when he announced the operation April 30—as being proved completely wrong.

The President reported that 17,000 of the 31,000 U.S. troops sent into Cambodia have been withdrawn already and the remaining 14,000 will be out by the end of the month. U.S. air and logistics support and military advisers—serving with South Vietnam's 43,000-man force—also will be removed by the deadline, he said.

After July 1, Nixon said, U.S. planes will strike at enemy troop movements and bases in Cambodia if he decides such action is necessary to protect American troops in neighboring South Vietnam. But that will be the only continuing American military activity involving Cambodia, he said.

He left open the question of when South Vietnamese troops will be withdrawn.

Nixon's Oct. 15 target date for pulling 50,000 more troops out of Vietnam indicated he plans to follow a slower timetable in withdrawals during the six months that began April 20 than in the six months between mid-October and mid-April next year.

Last April 20 he announced removal of 150,000 troops over the next 12 months. At an even withdrawal rate he would have taken out 75,000 by mid-October. But when the Cambodian operation was started withdrawals from Vietnam stopped, presumably because of the uncertainties of enemy counter-action.

Nixon announced Wednesday night Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has now resumed withdrawals.

Showing films of material taken from the enemy—guns, ammunition, rice—to illustrate his report on achievements of the highly controversial Cambodian strike, Nixon reported the capture of more than 10 million rounds of ammunition, 15,000 rifles and machine guns, 2,000 heavy weapons with 90 thousand rounds of ammunition for them, and 11 million pounds of rice.

The result of such captures and the destruction of enemy bases and storage centers, Nixon declared, will be to save American lives, give time for training the South Vietnamese army and insure the success of his program of troop withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Child Hit and Killed by Train

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Louis Williams, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Little Rock, was killed Wednesday night when struck by a train near his home.

The child had apparently run onto the tracks in an attempt to get his dog out of the train's path, police said. The dog was killed, too.

Stop Smoking Month Is June

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller issued a proclamation Wednesday declaring June as "Kick the Habit" month in Arkansas.

In issuing the proclamation, Rockefeller, a smoker of unfiltered cigarettes, told a group of Cub Scouts visiting the Capitol that his advice to them was that they do not start smoking.

and the pace of public housing construction across the country. At issue is a 1950 amendment to the California constitution giving state residents a veto over public housing projects in their area.

The amendment bars low-rent housing construction by cities or counties unless the project is approved by majority vote of area residents.

Papers filed with the court indicate similar legislation exists in Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont and Virginia.

Up for action by the justices is an appeal by the city of San Jose of a ruling by a federal court in San Francisco that held the amendment unconstitutional.

The San Jose city council, by a 6-1 vote, found a need in 1966 for low-rent housing in the community, established a housing authority and put before the voters in 1968 a proposal to construct up to 1,000 units in various sections of the city.

The measure was defeated when 57,896 votes were cast for it and 68,527 against.

A group of welfare recipients living in overcrowded facilities sued in federal court, claiming the amendment was discriminatory and unconstitutional. They pointed to exemptions in the amendment excusing the need for voter approval of federally owned housing and housing for public employees and university students.

The decision by the three-judge court, as given by district Judge Robert F. Peckham, agreed, saying California could not make assistance for the poor more difficult to obtain than assistance for other groups.

San Jose's appeal argues this concept of equality should not be applied to public housing, which it contends is a benefit, not a right, with voters entitled to decide whether the benefits should be extended.

This argument is opposed by attorneys for 41 low-income residents of San Jose and San Mateo County, all found eligible for public housing and all on waiting lists. They say at least 2,625 families in San Jose and San Mateo alone are waiting for units that are not available.

The welfare recipients have told the court the amendment's effect on low income housing has been disastrous. From 1950 to 1969, 48 per cent, or 14,997 housing units, were defeated. Others were not proposed because they also probably would have been beaten by the voters.

With 8 per cent of the nation's poor, California has only 4 per cent of the low income housing units in the country. Its percentage of units available to poor people is far behind New York,

Homemakers Visit Children's Colony

Extension Homemakers visit the Arkadelphia Unit of Arkansas Children's Colony and observe facilities for education, habilitation, and care of mentally retarded.

Clinton Wingfield, Superintendent, and Mrs. Virginia Orr, Social Services Director, gave the homemakers an extensive tour explaining how the Colony provides learning experiences to develop the potentials of the children.

Pictured above are some of the 128 children being instructed at the Colony.

Some of the Extension Homemaker Clubs cooperate with Arkansas Children's Colonies providing assistance for some of the children.

Extension Homemakers participating on the tour were: Mrs. Lyle Allen, Mrs. R.C. Snelgrove, Mrs. Mamie Sanders, Mrs. A.C. Kirby, Mrs. W.A. ### One Resident Town for Sale

YELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The nearby community of Rush, which has one resident, is for sale.

The town, once a booming center of zinc mining operations, is part of a 370-acre tract being offered for sale for $75,000.

The Buffalo Land and Development Co. is selling the property for three Yellville residents who recently purchased about 3,000 acres in the area and have disposed of all but this tract.

Gus Setzer, who has lived at Rush throughout his life, is the last remaining resident. He looks after the few remaining houses and other buildings.

Bob Baker, owner of the development company, said he believes the area could be turned into a recreational center.

Questions Law Legality

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office was asked Tuesday for an opinion on the constitutionality of a 1969 law providing for a special election if no candidate receives a general election majority.

Charles D. Matthews of North Little Rock, state chairman of the Democratic party, asked for the opinion on Act 225 of 1969.

"There is a serious question of constitutionality," Matthews said. The act may conflict with the state Constitution's provision that a candidate with the highest number of votes is to be the winner in an election, he said.

Matthews said he wanted to establish the constitutionality of the law without a court test.

People would lose confidence in the Democratic process if a candidate were forced to undergo the rigors of an additional election campaign that "had no legal meaning," he said.

An alloy is a mixture of two or more elements, at least one of which is a metal.
